Does Your Business Need Hazardous Waste Disposal Service?

Many products used by your business contain potentially hazardous chemical compounds that can poison, corrode, react or ignite when disposed of improperly.

Some examples of these products are paints and paint thinners, batteries, fluorescent tubes, motor oil, pesticides, solvents and acids. When discarded, these materials are considered hazardous waste—and if disposed of improperly, they can threaten human health and pollute the environment.

That’s why Federal and State laws require all businesses that generate or accumulate hazardous waste to dispose of it properly. It is illegal to dispose of hazardous wastes in the trash or down sewer or storm drains.

Because the proper disposal of hazardous waste can be complicated, time consuming and expensive for small businesses, many are simply storing their hazardous waste on site.

Hazardous wastes are reaching our waterways through sewers, storm drains, and landfills. Pollution prevention is a key component of our mission to protect public health and the environment—but it is everyone’s responsibility.

By properly disposing of your business's hazardous wastes, you will be protecting yourself, your family, your community and the environment.

In addition, your participation may save your business money. Our CESQG-Hazardous Waste Program provides proper disposal services at less cost than most private hazardous waste contractors. Our services were rated as “very affordable” by 80% of surveyed customers last year.

The Environmental Protection Agency regulates the management of hazardous waste from the point of generation to disposal. Businesses that illegally dump hazardous waste in the trash, down sinks or storm drains, or abandon it at job sites risk significant fines and penalties.

As a business owner/operator, it is your responsibility to ensure that all wastes generated by your business are disposed of in a way that does not harm public health and the environment.

Let's work together to safely dispose of your business’s hazardous waste.
